

Heritage Open Days in Dover

Saturday 10th and Sunday 11th September 2016

Western Heights North Entrance Road Tunnel Open For The First Time

Once again The Dover Society is coordinating arrangements in Dover for Heritage Open Days, organised by English Heritage nationally every year. This event celebrates England's fantastic architectural heritage by encouraging free access to buildings that are usually closed to the public or would normally charge an admission fee. Dover has a great wealth of historic buildings, but few are normally open to the public such as Dover Castle and are not free. This year 10 buildings will be open to the public free of charge.

1 Western Heights North Entrance Road Tunnel

Access to the North Entrance Road Tunnel on the Western Heights Dover will be possible for the first time to the public for many decades. Built in the 1860s, it provided vehicular and pedestrian access to the military defences from the town of Dover. It was closed around 1967 when a new road was cut through the ramparts and public access stopped a few years later.

Places are strictly limited on these guided tours that will allow you to explore the tunnel, see the huge tanks that fed water to the nearby barracks, view the drawbridge and descend into the gunrooms and casemates that housed guns to fire along the moats 150 years ago. The tours will be free as part of Heritage Open Days. Due to the terrain the tours are unsuitable for prams and wheelchairs, and for young children. Sturdy footwear should be worn. Limited parking will be available on nearly Drop Redoubt Road. Book from 1st August on

Pre-booked guided tours only Saturday and Sunday 11am and 2pm

2 Grand Shaft Staircase

This unique triple staircase was started in 1804 and finished in 1807. It connected the barracks and fortifications on the Western Heights through the 250 foot high cliff to sea level, Snargate Street and the Pier District, enabling troops to move quickly up or down its 140 steps within the cliff plus another 59 into the barrack yard. In 1812 a Mr Leith of Walmer rode a horse up the staircase for a bet. The entrance is in Snargate Street. Saturday and Sunday 10am to 4pm

3 Dover Town Hall formerly the Maison Dieu

Founded by Hubert de Burgh, then Constable of Dover Castle, in 1203, the primary purpose of the Maison Dieu was to provide free board and lodging for pilgrims on their way to the shrine of Thomas Becket at Canterbury and later to care for the elderly poor and sick of Dover. A chapel was added in 1227, which was adapted in the 19th century as a court. More buildings were added over the centuries. In 1536 the religious house was suppressed by Henry VIII, becoming the King's property. The buildings became a victualling depot for the navy until 1830 when it was taken over by the Board of Ordnance. Put up for auction in 1834 it was bought by the Dover Corporation. Restoration and adaptation of the impressive 13th century Stone Hall took place between 1852 and 1862. The 19th century stained glass windows in the Stone Hall depict episodes in the history of the town and there are a number of portraits of famous people connected with the town. The Council Chamber was added in 1868 and the adjoining Connaught Hall was opened in 1883.

Guided tours Sunday only 10am to 4pm

4 Maison Dieu House

This fine Jacobean house in Biggin Street is the oldest domestic building in Dover. It was built in 1665 as the Agent Victualler's residence close to the Maison Dieu, which Henry VIII had requisitioned as a store for the Navy Victualling Office following the Dissolution. In 1834 it became the residence of the commander of the Royal Engineers in Dover before becoming a private residence. The Kingsford brewing and milling family and the Mummery family who owned the Stembrook tannery lived here during the 19th century. Bought by the Corporation in 1899, the house became council offices until after the Second World War when it became the public library. Following the move of the library to the Discovery Centre, the premises were purchased and beautifully restored by Dover Town Council for its use. The town's regalia will also be on show.

Saturday 10am to 4pm

5 St. Edmund's Chapel

This tiny cemetery chapel in Priory Road was consecrated by St Richard of Chichester in 1253 in memory of his friend, St. Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury 1234-45, and was probably used as a cemetery chapel for the Maison Dieu close by. Hidden for many years by development around it and used as a workshop, it was revealed again following war damage to the surrounding buildings. The chapel was restored and reconsecrated in 1968.

Saturday 10am to 4pm

6 Dover College

The remains of St. Martin's Priory: built in the 12th century, it was suppressed in 1535 as part of Henry VIII's Dissolution of the Monasteries. The site was then leased for farming and most of the buildings fell into disrepair. Fortunately, the grand Norman refectory was used as a barn and survives today. Dover College opened on the site in 1871 when the refectory and gatehouse were restored and the king's hall became the college chapel. Part of the cloister also survives. The entrance is from Effingham Crescent.

Guided tours only Saturday and Sunday 11am and 2pm

7 Church of St. Mary the Virgin

This prominent building in Biggin Street, dating from Saxon times, was built originally by the secular canons of St. Martin Le Grand, but was rebuilt by the Normans. At the Dissolution it was saved from demolition when Henry VIII granted it for use as a parish and civic church. Unfortunately, because of its weak foundations, it was rebuilt in 1843, although its original arches and columns were reinstated. The magnificent tower survived this restoration.

Saturday 10am to 4pm

8 Bell Tower of St. Mary the Virgin

In the gallery of this Norman tower visitors will see how the bell ringers operate and in the clock chamber they will see the clock workings and various artefacts.

Saturday 1.30pm to 4pm

9 Unitarian Church

This brick-built octagonal church sitting above York Street was constructed in 1820 and its worship area reflects the shape of the building. The origins of the church go back to 1643 to a local community of Baptists who established a meeting house in 1655, but were persecuted following the restoration of the monarchy in 1660. In 1692 Samuel Taverner made part of his house available for worship and part of the garden as a burial ground. Freedom of belief and form of worship as a Unitarian Church was agreed by members in 1916. Following Second World War damage, the chapel reopened in 1952. There will be an art exhibition as well as refreshments.

Saturday and Sunday 10am to 4pm

10 St. Radegund's Abbey

This premonstratensian abbey founded in 1191 was visited by several monarchs. Following its Dissolution in 1538, the great abbey church was demolished and the remaining buildings with its lands were leased to tenant farmers by the monarch. Today the refectory is the farmhouse surrounded by abbey ruins. A gatehouse and a guest house survive.

Guided tours on Sunday only 10.30 to noon and 2.30pm to 4pm

MEMBERSHIP NEWS - SUMMER 2016

Sheila Cope

Grateful thanks as always to those members who pay their subscriptions by standing order or who pay in March or April. At time of writing I am pursuing late payers and am well aware that illness and other life events may prevent prompt payments. Because most members now provide email address and/or telephone number, the task of issuing reminders is much less onerous than it used to be in the days when letters were the only alternative to telephone messages.

Nevertheless, we still do not have an email address for some members who have email, especially if they joined some time ago. Email is useful, not only for subscription reminders but also for informing members of imminent events. For the recent extra meeting at the Town Hall on May 16th we informed those with CT postmarks only, but thanks to email we needed to send out a limited number of letters, thus saving trouble and expense. So please inform us via our own addresses inside the front cover of the Newsletter if you think we may not have your email address.

At this time of year it is not possible to give a specific number for membership as it unfortunately dwindles due to non-renewals but we have recently welcomed:- Mr A & Mrs J Rawlins, Mrs R Emms, Miss D Everett, Mrs A & Mr M Edwards and Mrs A Klidzia.
